Part III DETAILED ACTION

Notice to Applicant(s)

1. This action is responsive to the following communications: amendment filed on 12/2/2002.
2. This application has been reconsidered. Claims 1-9, 11-13, 17-19, 21-29, 31-33, 37-39, 41-43, and 45-48 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 11, 12, 13, 17, 18, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 31, 32, 33, 37, 38, 40, 41, 42, 43, 45, 46, 47, and 48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Momose (U. S. 6,301,013) in view of Bubie et al (U. S. 6,453,078).

With respect to claims 1, 11, 12, 21, 31, 32, 41, 45, and 46, Momose discloses a method of processing an image comprising registering an editing set (parts 42-45 figure 5) to an editing menu (41, figure 5) including plural editing processes (sheet size or magnification-reduction (the abstract, lines 7-9, column 11, lines 31-61 and column 14, lines 37-61) designated by a user (column 2, lines 10-16), identifying an editing set selected from the editing menu (figure 8).

Momose differs from claims 1, 11, 12, 21, 31, 32, 41, 45, and 46 in that he does not clearly disclose displaying plural reduced-sized images; selecting at least one image from the plural displayed images, and performing editing processes which correspond to the identified editing set on the selected images.

Bubie discloses displaying plural reduced-sized images (the abstract, lines 1-2); selecting at least one image from the plural displayed images (the abstract, lines 2-8), and performing editing processes which correspond to the identified editing set on the selected images (which reads on printing the images based on a custom layout template) (column 6, lines 9-29), and editing set including layout information indicating information of position to lay the images as designated by the user (column 6, lines 9-29). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified Momose to display plural reduced-sized images; select at least one image from the plural displayed images, and perform editing processes which correspond to the identified editing set on the selected images. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified Momose by the teaching of Bubie in order to enable multiple different images to be properly sized and positioned when being printed as disclosed by Bubie in column 2, lines 12-14).

With regard to claims 2, 22, and 42, Momose discloses an identifier indicating a set of editing processes are registered (figure 13); displaying plural registered identifiers in the form of a list (figure 13), and calling a set of editing processes corresponding to an identifier selected from the list of registered identifiers (figure 13 and column 17, lines 17-52).

With respect to claims 3, 4, 5, 6, 23, 24, 25, 26, and 43, Momose discloses the editing processes include layout information (column 12, lines 10-17), image rotation (column 11, lines 46-55), and image enlargement/reduction (column 12, lines 10-40).

With respect to claims 17, 18, 37, 38, 47, and 48, Bubie discloses selecting the images based on the image selection condition of the editing set (column 6, lines 9-29). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified Momose by the teaching of Bubie in order to enable multiple different images to be properly sized and positioned when being printed as disclosed by Bubie in column 2, lines 12-14).

With regard to claims 13 and 33, Momose discloses a scanner (6).

5. Claims 7, 8, 27, and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Momose in view of Bubie as applied to claims 1, 21, and 41 above, and further in view of Ono (U. S. 6,295,136).

With respect to claims 7, 8, 27, and 28, Momose as modified differs from claims 7, 8, 27, and 28 in that he does not clearly disclose the editing processes include image contrast and brightness adjustment. Ono discloses a printer control apparatus which sets various attributes for printing utilizing dialog boxes wherein the attributes include image contrast and brightness adjustment (figure 6). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified Momose as modified wherein the editing processes include image contrast and brightness adjustment. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified Momose as modified by the teaching of Ono in order to improve operator control as disclosed by Ono in column 2, lines 26-33.

6. Claims 9, 19, 29, and 39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Momose in view of Bubie as applied to claims 1, 21, and 41 above, and further in view of Kubo et al (Kubo) (U. S. 5,828,461).

With respect to claims 9 and 29, Momose as modified differs from claims 9 and 29 in that he does not clearly disclose the editing processes include designating an aspect ratio. Kubo discloses an image processing method wherein a dialog box allows the setting of an aspect ratio corresponding to a print size (column 23, lines 1-8). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified Momose as modified wherein the editing processes include designating an aspect ratio. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified Momose as modified by the teaching of Kubo in order to improve image processing.

With respect to claims 19 and 39 Momose as modified differs from claims 19 and 39 in that he does not clearly disclose that the selection condition is magnetic information which is stored such that the magnetic information is linked to image information. Kubo discloses being able to select magnetic information (which reads on panorama) (figure 10) and that the magnetic information is linked to image information (column 1, lines 10-15). Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified Momose as modified wherein the selection condition is magnetic information which is stored such that the magnetic information is linked to image information. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified Momose as modified by the teaching of Kubo in order to improve image processing.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 21, and 41 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

8. All claims are rejected.

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new grounds of rejection. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See M.P.E.P. § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 C.F.R. § 1.136(a).

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR RESPONSE TO THIS FINAL ACTION IS SET TO EXPIRE THREE MONTHS FROM THE DATE OF THIS ACTION. IN THE EVENT A FIRST RESPONSE IS FILED WITHIN TWO MONTHS OF THE MAILING DATE
